

PRIVACY POLICY

Privacy POLICY

1. Introduction

1.1. The Company only uses the collected information, documents and/or data for reference. The foregoing information that the Client needs to provide includes, but are not limited to, full name and address, contact number, and email address.

1.2. In some cases, the Company may collect other personal information from the Client depending on the nature of appeal or use. These other personal details include but are not limited to social security number, account number, or mortgage or health information. The Company may also collect information regarding the Client's appointment on the website for security purposes.

2. Disclosure

2.1. The Company does not sell, license, lease, or otherwise disclose the Client's personal information to any third party or affiliate if not deemed necessary.

2.1. The Company reserves the right to disclose the information of the Client if such detail is required to provide the service or product the Client has requested, or to provide the Client an opportunity to participate in the products or services that Company's affiliates offer.

2.3. General information of the Client will also be disclosed to affiliates that assist the Company in operating the website, conducting the Company's business, or servicing the Clients.

2.4. Under certain circumstances, the Company may also disclose information to third parties, to regulatory, law enforcement or other government authorities if required by law.

2.5. In other instances, information of the Client will be disclosed if:

2.5.1. If it is required to comply with a legal obligation;

2.5.2. If it is necessary to protect and defend the Company's rights or property;

2.5.3. If it is to secure the safety of other Clients;

2.5.4. If it is to protect the service or product of the Company; or

2.5.5. If it is needed to investigate suspicious trading and funding activities.

2.6. The Client can obtain his/her personal information that the Company has collected through email request.

2.7. If the Client requests for information of another Client, such request should be sent through email providing a clear and valid explanation why he/she needs that particular detail. Request for collecting information of the Client other than his/her own will be subject for approval of the Company. The Company reserves the right to reject the foregoing request without explanation.

3. Security of Information

3.1. The Company uses security software, systems and procedures to provide the Clients a safe and secured trading environment. The Company also uses a Secure Socket Layer ("SSL") encryption technology to protect the information provided through the website. In compliance with Clause 2 of this policy, the Company has established security methods to protect the Client's personal, financial, trading and investing information.

3.2. In spite of the Company's best effort to protect the Clients' information, the Client should not expect that his/her personal information and/or private communications will always remain private.

3.3. The Client acknowledges that the Company will not be liable if any third party unlawfully intercept or access transmissions or private communications. The Company will presume that the Client is able to understand and accept this risk upon his/her use of the Company's services.

4. Cookies

4.1. The Company uses cookies to obtain data that can improve the Clients' trading experience. Cookies are small files from the Client's web servers that may be stored to his/her device.

4.2. Cookies enable the Company to see how the Client was able to access the website, which pages are visited, and if the Client is logged on in the website.

4.3. Cookies and other collected data from the website will remain private and will not be distributed and/or disclosed to third parties.

4.4. Cookies do not contain any account or password information, and the Company will not collect information about other websites that the Client visits.

4.5. The Client can manage his/her allowed and blocked cookies through the web browser he/she uses. By visiting the Company's website, the Client acknowledges the terms, conditions and risks herein. The Client can still use the Company's services if he/she chooses to block the cookies from the website, but some functions may be defective or may not work as designed.
